Our Story

I guess you could say Satchel and I have it in our blood. My sister and brother-in-law have a wedding videography company, Satchel has DJ'd weddings for the last three years, and my in-laws have a small wedding venue that's plucked right out of a storybook.

And as for me, for the last five years I've worked as an associate wedding videographer for several phenomenal companies.

The 200 plus weddings I have been blessed to be a part of, have taught me something I never could have learned elsewhere... Capturing amazing photos or videos of your memories is only a small part of making your day the absolute best.

The best vendors are the ones who intimately know the details of the day. They're the ones who show up and deliver more than expected, who can keep mom calm, who have an extra safety pin for the tear, a bandaid for the oops, ... the ones who work well with other vendors ... and make you laugh when you feel like crying.

We would love to be a part of your special day.

Weddings

Besides the selection of your spouse, choosing the right photographer and videographer for your wedding is likely the most important decision you'll make. The venue comes and goes, the food is here today and gone tomorrow, the flowers wilt within hours ... but, your photos and videos will last a lifetime. They're generational. They forever memorialize the celebration of the reunion between you and your lifetime partner.

Knowing that, is exactly why we're just, well ... extra. And, it's why you're going to love us. :)

Portraits

Not everyone needs a wedding photographer. Sometimes, it's just about preserving precious moments in time with our loved ones.

Whether it be an anniversary, retirement, a milestone birthday, or just celebrating the uniqueness of your family, we want to give you the gift that never fades away. Some might say a picture is worth a thousand words. We'd like to add: pictures preserve a thousand memories.

One thing we've learned about family photos is that the perfection is in the imperfection. That awkward smile, that tearful toddler, or that slightly crooked tie ... all of these things tell your story.

Let us help you celebrate your loved ones.

Wedding Day Tips

1

Unplug

On your wedding day, it's time to relax. Regardless of inevitable crises, you're getting married. There's nothing else you can do last minute, so Put Your Phone Down, please. Better yet, have it packed in your overnight bag. Give vendors your coordinator's and bridesmaids' numbers for URGENT matters. Be in the moment. Be present. Trust us, your day goes by in a flash. Don't miss it.

Be flexible

Spoiler alert: There's a possibility some things won't go as planned. You simply can't have complete control over all things. If it rains instead of the beautiful sunny day you'd hoped for, don't worry, we're all waterproof. At the end of the day you will still be married to your best friend. And, you'll have unexpected stories that'll make your day even more special.

Hair and makeup

On your big day I know you think you need to be the last one to get your hair and makeup done so it "lasts" the longest, but when I tell you wedding make up is built to last, I mean it! Be one of the first for hair and makeup. This allows photographers and videographers to immediately begin capturing those amazing shots of you and your bridal party!

Vendors

Choosing photo/video vendors who have worked together before isn't a must, but I will say it helps your day go much smoother! Shooters work together side by side all day so it's nice that they already have a good sense of flow, trust, and respect between them! That seamless coordination will be reflected in your final shots and video.

Family photos

Family photos are, of course, a must. Who better to get pictures with than the most important people in your lives? BUT be mindful of the length of your list. Nothing can be more stressful than waiting for crazy Uncle Walter to come back from the cocktail hour he fled to, or waiting for Great Aunt Edna to go all the way to the bathroom and back for one picture all while the sun is setting. And, we still haven't gotten the most important shots of the day - YOU and your new HUSBAND! Remember, all those extended family members will be at the reception, and so will I. We can easily grab any extra shots there!
